Thankful Design

Contemporary views with nature flowing architecture, spacious independent units without common walls for more privacy, ventilation and infinite views...

Convenient living spaces come into existence when there is a perfect balance between all elements of nature harnessed for the benefit of man. We have done something similar here at Elegant Hermitage where we have managed to tame and even assimilate our living spaces with all elements, thus ensuring harmony with nature while still enjoying the convenience of a great life.

Elegant Hermitage apartment displays 3 towers that house elegantly designed and beautifully spaced 2, 3 and 4 bedroom apartments that carry the privacy you seek and ample space for all those activities, hobbies and relaxation which lay cocooned in your life due to lack of space till now. Every balcony opens up to stunning views that light up your mood again and again. The towers are planned and positioned in such a way to ensure there is nothing blocking your view from every balcony. The main highlight being the 8 feet space between each apartment with no common wall is something no other project can boast of in town. Enjoy the natural light and free flow of air owing to the 67% open space and greenery outside. The building's shared common spaces are luxurious, and they have a really regal feel and are a pleasure to spend time and to appreciate evening walks. Come and experience a living that is truly one of its kind.

Thankful Architecture

The efforts is to create a fine balance between light-air-volume-space-material-vegetation and people...
